The College Place Police Department commissioned a new officer following a lengthy training process. After completing thirty-one weeks of training, 19 weeks at the Basic Law Enforcement Academy followed by twelve weeks of field training, Officer Tanner Cole was ready to be commissioned. Chief Tomaras swore in Officer Tanner Cole during last night's College Place City council meeting increasing their police staff to 12 officers.

Currently the police department has two vacancies with hopes to fill positions by the end of May. We have completed two rounds of candidate interviews with a third panel on April 30th. Once the interviews are complete the Civil Service Board will certify the list and send the top candidates to a Chief's interview. From there, a conditional offer is provided to the applicant who must complete a polygraph, background investigation, psychological examination and medical screening.
