4. DISCUSS ANNUAL PRESERVATION AWARDS PROGRAM

Members of the Historic Preservation Commission reviewed a draft PowerPoint presentation for the September 21st awards program that included photos of the award recipients for the categories of New Construction, Addition, Renovation, Restoration, and Designated Landmarks, Architectural Excellence awards to the Chicago Botanic Garden, and a "Lost Glencoe" preservation awareness section highlighting significant homes lost from 2006-2011. Commissioner Schwarzbach stated she would be unable to attend the awards program due to a prior commitment. It was agreed that Commissioners would present the awards as follows: Van Vechten - New Construction, Renovation, Restoration, & Lost Glencoe; Scheckelhoff - Opening Remarks & Chicago Botanic Garden; Eifler - Addition; and Winn - Designated Landmarks.

5. "INQUIRIES" AND DEMOLITION APPLICATIONS

Commissioners reviewed a demolition application for 573 Longwood Avenue designed by George Fred and William Keck and constructed in 1950. Mr. Parch noted that the home was not included on the Village's Heritage List despite it being designed by the Keck's. Commissioners decided to take no further action following a decision previously made by the Commission in 2006.

Mr. Parch noted that a demolition application for the same property was received in 2006. The Historic Preservation Commission reviewed the demolition application at that time. At its meeting on August 1, 2006, based on a review of the house file and photos, Commissioners agreed that the integrity of the home was changed by additions that likely occurred in 1997 and did not meet the criteria for landmark designation.

6. ADJOURNMENT

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned at 9:03 p.m.
