A Message from the Mayor ...

Dear Friends,

While I was watching the much promoted and publicized Chicago NASCAR event in July, it occurred to me how focused the drivers were on what was ahead of them and what was behind them. Their actions and reactions were based on their anticipation of future events and on what they had already experienced. Few, if any, were able to "enjoy the moment."

Now that summer is in our rear view mirror, many of us tend to refocus our attention on the upcoming holiday season, and much like the NASCAR drivers, miss the enjoyment that being "in the moment" can bring.

As we move into fall, we have the opportunity to enjoy a host of activities and events that showcase the Addison Advantage.

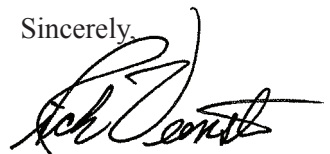

With the leaves change of colors we can enjoy the beauty of the season with family and friends by visiting our many parks, walking paths, and bike trails throughout the Village. What better time to enjoy outdoor dining than by visiting the multitude of restaurants that bring a diverse flavor to our community? Maybe viewing the latest blockbuster movie offers an opportunity to escape from your daily work schedule. It's also a great time to get those last few rounds of golf in before the snow falls. If bowling is your game, you can enjoy the ambiance of Stardust Bowl, the largest consecutive lane bowling facility in the country.

This is also the time of year that Addison demonstrates its gratitude to those who have served in the military, as well as its concern for those of our neighbors in need.

On Nov. 11, we will dedicate the new Veterans' Circle, giving the monument the prominence, and our veterans the recognition, that is so richly deserved. Later that evening, we will come together for the Mayor's Community Charity Ball. Since 1991, we have raised nearly $1.5 million, all going to local charities. I encourage you to consider attending one or both of these special events.

So, as we transition into fall, let's make sure to "be in the moment" to experience and enjoy the many opportunities that are part of the Addison Advantage!

Sincerely,

Rich Veenstra

Behind the Advantage

Our business community – both industrial and commercial – is the backbone of our village. Addison Community Television has begun highlighting businesses on its Behind the Advantage series, which is also available on our YouTube Channel (VillageAddison.) Recently, Mike Tynus (left to right) and Alyssa Smith interviewed Ed Stevenson, Director of Golf, at The Preserve at Oak Meadows for the show.

Code Enforcement is for Everyone

Property maintenance codes contribute to the well-being of our community. The preservation of life and safety, the reduction of crime as well as the maintenance of property values over time are a direct result of the application and enforcement of property maintenance codes.

The Village of Addison has adopted the 2018 International Property Maintenance Code, which applies to all existing buildings, structures and properties within our community.

This code addresses property maintenance standards such as weeds, grass height, painting the exterior surfaces of buildings, properly displaying your address so it can be visible to police and fire personnel, preventing trash, garbage and refuse from accumulating, limiting the number of occupants that reside in a residence and many more ranging from plumbing, electrical, mechanical and fire safety.

If you have any questions regarding the enforcement of property maintenance codes, please call 630-693-7530 between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. If you would like to report a property maintenance problem, you can either call the preceding number or download the free Addison Connected App on your cell phone by visiting the App Store.

Infrastructure Rehabilitation Project Begins

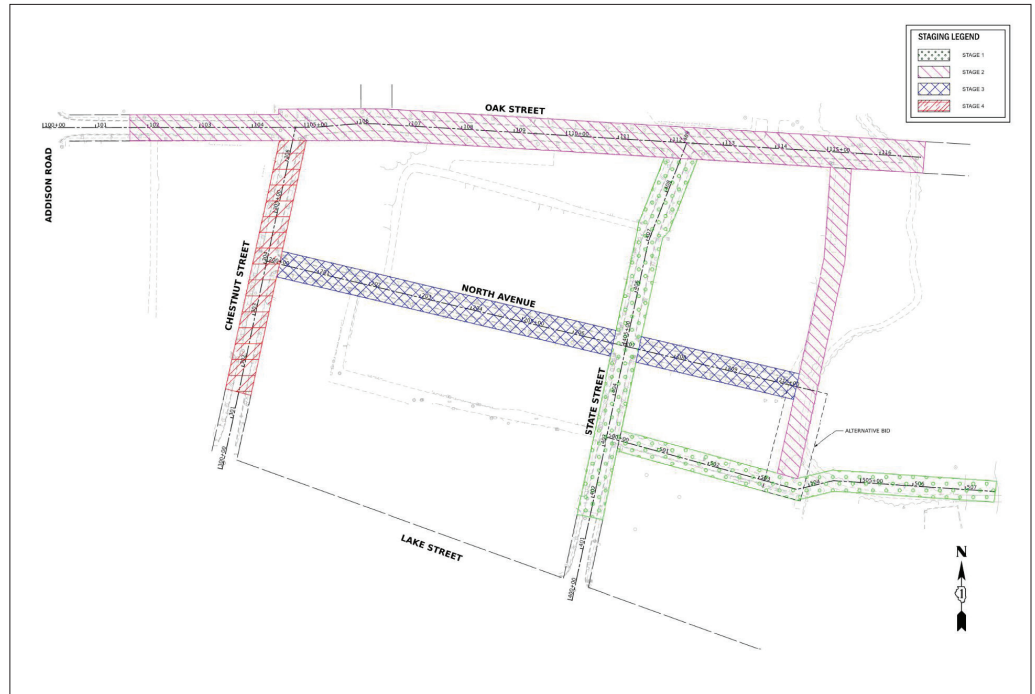

Addison's Oldest Subdivision Get Federal Funds for Improvements

The residential area north of Lake Street and east of Addison Road is one of the very first subdivisions developed in Addison, and dates from the early 1920's.

Surprisingly, the infrastructure put in place at that time, primarily water mains and sewers, are 100 years old and still in operation! It is a testament to the quality of materials, construction methods, and most importantly, the craftsmanship of that time that has proven to outlast most of our "modern" infrastructure built in the decades that followed.

The Village of Addison will begin a two-year infrastructure rehabilitation project in the area this summer.

All public water main, sewers, curbs, roadway, and a portion of the sidewalks will be replaced. The combined sewer system will be replaced with separate sanitary and storm sewers.

In addition, private water service connections to the homes will be replaced in areas where lead piping was used on homes in Addison, and throughout the country, prior to 1940.

The project is 100 percent federally funded by a grant from the American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA), with an estimated total cost of $5 million.

Historical Museum Debuts Artifacts from Strauschild Family

One of Addison's families of long standing recently made a significant donation of items to the Addison Historical Museum.

The Strauschild family lived in Addison from the mid-1850s until 2022.

According to museum records, the family patriarch, Phillip Strauschild, built the family home at 237 E. Lake St. around 1857.

His descendants continued to live in the home until his great-granddaughter Marilyn Pawels sold it; in March 2023, she passed away at the age of 97.

Ms. Pawels and her estate kindly donated many significant artifacts, photos and documents to the Addison Historical Museum.

Among them were a German stein, an Eastlake mantle clock and an Eastlake roll-top desk. The desk belonged to her grandfather, Charles F. Strauschild, and is now on display in the Century House.

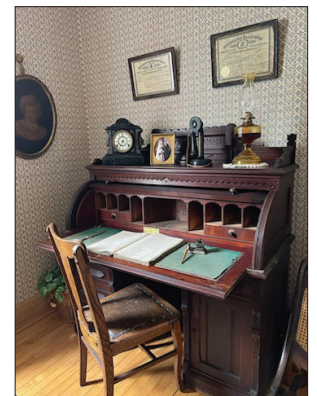

He started out as a harness maker, taking over his father Phillip's business. Later he served as Addison Village Clerk and Trustee from 1887-88; undertaker; Justice of the Peace; board member of the Chicago and Elgin Electric Railroad; officer of the Addison Mutual Farm Insurance Company; World War One registration official; notary public; and election judge.

In addition, items relating to the military service of Ms. Pawels' uncle Walter F. Strauschild, and her brother Barry Pawels, were donated. Strauschild served during World War I, and Pawels served in the Korean Conflict.

Donated items include partial uniforms, medals, discharge papers and photographs. Some of these are on display in the Military Room of the Historical Museum.

The museum is open Wednesday through Friday, 11 a.m. - 4 p.m., and the second Saturday of the month from noon to 4 p.m. Admission is free.

This Eastlake roll-top desk was donated by the Strauschild family, and can be seen in the Century House.

POLICE NEWS

Due to the change in weather that fall brings, drivers need to take special care due to changing road conditions.

The Addison Police Department would like to provide residents with a few driving safety tips in order to stay safe during the chilly – and potentially rainy – fall season.

Tip #1: Keeping your vehicle in top condition will help you navigate the challenges of fall driving more easily. Fall is a good time to check your vehicle's battery, check and replace wiper blades, see if the heat is working properly and inspect your vehicles tires for proper tread and inflation. As temperatures rise and fall, your car tires may expand and contract. This causes loss of air pressure. You will want your tires to be inflated to manufacturer specifications.

Tip # 2: Falling leaves, rain and fog can obscure or limit visibility. The wet leaves and frost can make roads slippery. These conditions mean you should slow down and drive carefully. Give yourself plenty of distance between your car and the car in front. Always try to avoid braking suddenly on a slippery surface.

Tip # 3: School season has started so watch for children walking to and from school. Always be sure to come to a complete stop at crosswalks and slow down in school zones. Furthermore, children play in leafy piles near streets, take extra precautions especially in residential areas. Always remember to stop for school buses; when the "Stop" arm is extended, you may never pass a school bus.

ADDISON FIRE PROTECTION DISTRICT

Sharps Disposal Program

Household Hazardous Waste

- Proper disposal of hazardous waste protects the environment and saves lives.
- Hazardous waste products, “sharps”, is a generic term used for any medical item that is sharp and can puncture skin. Sharps include the following:
 - Needles (including Hypodermic needles)
 - Syringes
 - EpiPens®
 - Lancets and other items used for home glucose monitoring
 - “Other sharps” that are used to treat or monitor conditions such as diabetes, arthritis, or cancer at home may use sharps to do so
- Used needles should NOT be thrown in the garbage. Be sure you get rid of your used needles the safe way to avoid exposing other people to harm. Improper disposal of home-generated medical waste poses a potential health hazard to many, including family members, sanitation workers, people in the community, hotel housekeeping, staff and school personnel. Although rare, diseases as serious as Hepatitis B & C and AIDS can result from accidental needle sticks. The improper disposal of contaminated sharps is a serious safety concern for garbage collectors and landfill workers.
- Commonly, red sharps containers are used to safely dispose of hypodermic needles and other sharp medical instruments, such as IV catheters and disposable scalpels. A sharps container is a hard plastic container that are often sealable and self-locking, as well as rigid, which prevents waste from penetrating or damaging the sides of the container. These containers can be purchased typically at pharmacies.
- Red Sharps containers must be disposed of as hazardous waste – cannot be thrown away in the refuse system / recycled! Against IL EPA regulations
- Alternatively hard plastic household containers, which should be unbreakable and puncture resistant, may be used. For example, a laundry detergent bottle. No milk jugs or coffee cans.
- Check with your doctor, clinic or, hospital to see about needles or “sharps” disposal that they may offer as well at their office or click on the link below to find a location to recycle sharps, needles, or syringes:
