

Plan for retirement health care costs with confidence.

Health care expenses are the second largest expense in retirement after housing costs.* While Medicare or private insurance may pay for some of these costs, you'll likely pay a significant portion out of your own pocket.

Get started now with a personalized Nationwide Health Care Cost Assessment.

Nationwide's knowledgeable financial specialists can help you plan more confidently for retirement medical expenses with our Health Care Cost Assessment that:

- Personalizes your estimate based on your outlook for retirement, current health conditions, family medical background, as well as your employer Medicare options
- Shows you how much health care spending can change throughout retirement and what you can expect to pay for out-of-pocket health care costs and Medicare premiums
- Can help create a personalized plan to address your health care costs throughout retirement

The information collected on the Personalized Health Care Cost Assessment will be kept confidential and used to provide an estimate of a client's potential health care costs in retirement. The estimate is based on a client's specific financial situation and goals, as well as their current overall health condition. The client's financial situation and health conditions may change over time and this may affect their future changes. Please keep in mind that the estimates resulting from this fact finder are for hypothetical purposes only and are not guaranteed.
