Flex-N-Gate Group, a minority-owned American Tier 1 enterprise that operates globally, delivers a broad range of exterior and interior plastic, structural metal, advanced vehicle lighting and mechanical assembly automotive systems and components to automotive OEMs. Established in 2019, Flex-N-Gate Troy, LLC was created to supply sequenced plastic fascias and welded underbody rear rails. The company will operate out of the former AxleTech facility and create 245 new jobs, resulting in a $1 million MI Business Development Program performance-based grant. Flex-N-Gate supports personal growth of its employees and makes every effort to hire, train, and promote from within. The company also utilizes Michigan Works! to reach local talent in disadvantaged areas and underrepresented employees.

As a global Tier 1 auto supplier, Flex-N-Gate recognized the significant business advantages that come with a Troy location.

Cadillac Products, Inc. was formed in 1942 to meet the urgent supply and manufacturing needs of World War II; since then, the company has put its talent, energy and dedication to work for its customers. Cadillac Products made a recent investment to expand engineering, production and distribution from its Michigan facility, helping to meet the growing needs of medical gowns nationwide. ProTEC-USA recently developed a new, state-of-the-art production work cell that will enhance its capacity to produce EZDoff medical gowns for healthcare and other critical industries. A subsidiary of Troy-based Cadillac Products, in-house extrusion, film converting and gown manufacturing capabilities allow ProTEC-USA to serve as a strategic, domestic supply chain partner, delivering high-quality gowns with volume-level pricing.

Without touching the outer side of the EZDoff gown to remove it, the wearer is protected against contamination.

The Marvelous Child Development Center is not just a daycare. Owner Diyana Sarafov is committed to empowering exceptional education for infants and toddlers. She believes that children should be active in their own learning and not just passive observers. She uses the Reggio Emilia approach to guide children as they interact with their surroundings and encourage them to express themselves. Diyana and her team created a unique setting that offers eco-friendly learning tools, children’s garden, variety of organic food options, and multiple presentations of themes that lead to open exploration and questions about the world that surrounds us. The Marvelous Child Team believes that children are collaborators and learn through interaction with their community.

Diyana created a healthy environment that is eco-friendly, aesthetically pleasing, and serves as a “third teacher.”

In the Burn Boot Camp gyms, you'll find free weights, hurdles, kettlebells, jump ropes, resistance bands, battle ropes, and our coveted pull-up rig—equipment chosen with the intention to give you the full-body strength and conditioning you need to maximize your workout. North Carolina based Burn Boot Camp opened its doors in Troy making it the sixth Burn Boot

Camp in Michigan and 305th Burn Boot Camp in the nation. The gym provides personal training in a group setting and ensures 45-minute worry-free workouts for all fitness levels and ages. Trainers create and modify the group exercises to a personal level based on each member's goals and fitness level. Daily camps offer high intensity interval training with no two workouts ever being the same.

Burn Boot Camp, owned by Brian and Leslie Watkins, leads each workout with its mission to inspire, empower, and transform lives.

The curriculum at Lil' Disciples is designed to enhance learning through: large and small muscle groups, gross and fine motor skills, sensory exploration, social interaction, dramatic play, discovery and exploration, early math and science, language and literacy experiences, creative experiences through art, literature, and music, and faith in Jesus Christ.

At Calvary Chapel's Lil' Disciples they take aspects of Play-Based, Academic, Reggio Emilia, Montessori, Emergent, Waldorf, and Religious Philosophies to form a well-rounded curriculum to help the children learn in various ways. The learning process for a child should not only be fruitful, but it should also be fun, and it should help prepare them for life outside of the classroom.

They offer smaller class sizes, simple classrooms, a nutritional menu, and well-trained staff.
