Lakefront & Ravine Maintenance

Our winding system of ravines and towering bluffs that abut Lake Michigan make Highland Park unique. These areas, known as the Steep Slope Zone, are very sensitive to change and caution should be taken when working in these areas.

Maintenance is allowed but strict regulations ensure that best management practices are followed. Before working in the Steep Slope Zone, contact City Forester, Keith O'Herrin at 847.926.1604 or koherrin@cityhpil.com to determine whether permits are required, such as for removal of vegetation, ecological restoration or construction.

A guide to management in the Steep Slope Zone is available at www.cityhpil.com/steepslope.

2017 Capital Improvements

The City's 2017 Capital Improvement Plan (CIP) is underway with an aggressive schedule to complete approximately $12 million worth of infrastructure design and construction projects. As one of the city's four core priorities, infrastructure investment is a major component of Highland Park's annual, five-year fiscal year budget and work plan.

A major CIP project scheduled to begin in May is the annual Road Rehabilitation Program. The project focuses on repair and maintenance of the city's asphalt and concrete streets.

In addition, sidewalk repairs and replacements will begin in June. The annual repair program addresses tripping hazards and replacement of deteriorated sidewalk panels.

Residents will be notified in advance of the construction schedule and any planned road closures.

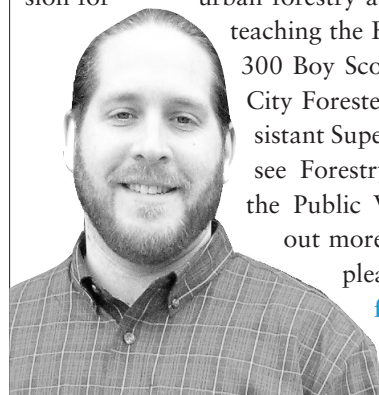

For more information on the other planned CIP projects, visit www.cityhpil.com or call the Department of Public Works at 847.432.0807.

New City Forester

Keith O'Herrin, Ph.D., recently joined the City as the new Forester in the Forestry Section of the Public Works Department. Keith previously worked as an urban forester for communities in Indiana and Texas. For Keith's doctoral research at Virginia Tech, he studied how the profession of urban forestry itself can improve by adopting methods seen in other modern, best-managed professions. Keith has a strong passion for urban forestry and has donated many hours teaching the Forestry Merit Badge to over 300 Boy Scouts. Joe O'Neill, the former City Forester, has been promoted to Assistant Superintendent and will oversee Forestry and Facilities Sections of the Public Works Department. To find out more about the Forestry Section, please visit www.cityhpil.com/forestry or contact Keith at koherrin@cityhpil.com or 847.926.1604.

Working Together for a Bright Future

Nancy R. Rotering

– Mayor Nancy R. Rotering

We live in a vibrant city and I want to thank you for your involvement in making it so. Your input, ideas, and enthusiasm are what make Highland Park hum.

We just wrapped up a very passionate election season. Throughout the campaigns, we heard diverse voices, yet a common theme: a deep dedication to our community's best interests now and for the future. As we welcome and congratulate our new and re-elected leaders, each of us is eager to strengthen productive partnerships and make a lasting difference to this place we call home.

This is a moment to embrace creativity and collaboration. It is an opportunity to work towards a common purpose. Together, we will continue to create a shared vision and implement plans for our city, schools, park district and township: a vision of a Highland Park that is thriving, safe, and equitable.

I ask that as a community we harness our passion and strive for a culture where we challenge ourselves to listen, to learn, and to trust more. Have a question or concern? Ask a reliable source before leaping to a conclusion. Together, we can achieve so much. Apart, we are wasting precious resources and achieving little.

Our job is to find common ground and be impactful - transparently and respectfully. The progress we realize today will make current and future generations proud to call Highland Park home.

HP150 Idea Summit

The City of Highland Park was incorporated on March 11, 1869 and the Sesquicentennial celebration – its one hundred and fiftieth anniversary - will take place in 2019. Help us plan a celebration of our City's history, progress and the unique individuals who have made our community the special place we all love.

The public is invited to attend one of two HP150 Idea Summits. The events are scheduled for:

Wednesday, May 10, 2 - 5 PM

Tuesday, May 16, 6 - 8 PM

Both meetings will be held at the Fire Department Headquarters, 1130 Central Avenue. The HP150 Idea Summits are an open house for ideas so attendees may stop by at any time during the two-day summit and brainstorm ideas for our Sesquicentennial Anniversary. The ideas generated will be compiled and then shared with the City Council and Steering Committee as the plans for the anniversary celebration develop. Committees are forming and this is good time to volunteer your talents and energy.

Activities will be held leading up to the HP150 Celebration such as development of a logo, a float in the 2017 Independence Day Parade and more.

If you are unable to attend, please submit ideas your in writing before May 17 to Jennifer Dotson, jdotson@cityhpil.com.

National Drinking Water Week May 7 - 13

Highland Park joins over 200 communities nation-wide in commemorating Drinking Water Week to highlight the many ways that our community benefits from a safe and plentiful water supply. Water is a precious source and should be valued as such, for example; it takes 19 gallons of water to grow one apple and 2,100 gallons of water to make one pair of shoes. An average American uses 64,240 gallons of water each year.

For over 35 years, the American Water Works Association (AWWA) and its members annually celebrate Drinking Water Week – a time for water professionals and the communities they serve to recognize the vital role water plays in our daily lives.

Check out the City's Drinking Water Display at the Highland Park Public Library May 7 - 13 during library hours.

To learn more about your water supply, please visit: www.cityhpil.com/watertreatment or visit AWWA website on Drinking Water Week www.awwa.org/resources-tools/public-affairs/public-affairs-events/drinking-water-week.

Fire Dept.'s Knox-Box Program

The Fire Department's Knox-Box program saves time to provide life-saving assistance. A Knox-Box is a secure emergency access tool that gives first responders immediate entry to a building or property without using force. The steel box – installed near a property's front entrance or gate – contains a “master key” that allows paramedics or firefighters to quickly enter a home or commercial building without resorting to force.

Seconds count when responding to a 911 call and patients in distress may not be able to unlock the door to let the Fire Department enter. The Knox-Box system helps paramedics administer life-saving assistance quickly to those who need it. Residents and property owners in Highland Park who are interested in learning more about the Knox-Box system may contact the Fire Department at 847.433.3110 or visit www.knoxbox.com.

It's Time for Backflow Prevention Annual Testing

The City is committed to providing the healthiest, highest quality water, but we need your help to prevent contamination from occurring at your home or business. Drinking water normally flows in one direction, from the meter to the house. Under certain circumstances, it can flow in the opposite direction -- this is called “backflow.”

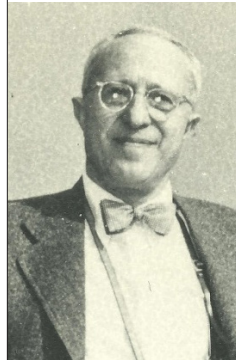

Lawn irrigation systems are required to install a backflow prevention device prior to connection to City water system. The greatest potential hazard, an unprotected cross connection, can cause backflow to occur. Chemicals, animal waste, bacteria, and other harmful pollutants migrating, via lawn irrigation systems, into City water system is protected by an approved backflow prevention device. Each spring, prior to activation of lawn irrigation system, the backflow device is required to be inspected and tested by a licensed plumber. Also, for Swimming pools and hot tubs, ensure that if a water hose is used to fill these units, it is protected with a hose bib vacuum breaker installed on the faucet. And for fire sprinkler systems, have the fire system's backflow protection device inspected annually along with your fire protection system (some fire protection contractors can perform both services at the same time).

For information on backflow prevention devices and frequently asked questions, visit www.cityhpil.com/backflow or contact Public Works Department Water Production Division staff between 7AM and 4PM at 847.433.4355. During off-hours, please contact non-emergency Police dispatch at 847.432.7730.

History Spotlight: Architect Ernest Grunsfeld, Jr.

Submitted by the Historic Preservation Commission

A number of historic and prominent architects have contributed the early development of Highland Park, including the nationally-known local architect Ernest Grunsfeld, Jr.

Grunsfeld completed his studies in 1919 at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He also studied at the Ecole des Beaux Arts in Paris, France and the American Academy of Rome.

He began his practice in 1924, and in 1930 he became very well-known when his architectural design was selected for the Adler Planetarium, for which he won the Gold Medal of the American Institute of Architects. He had an independent practice from 1929 to 1939 and throughout his career he also worked in partnership with various other renowned architects including Eugene H. Klaber, Wallace Yerkes, Pierre Koenig and Friedman. Grunsfeld and Klaber worked as a partnership between 1924 and 1929 and were commissioned for a number of residential projects in Highland Park.

Grunsfeld's work was a traditional architectural style, but reflected an original approach. Grunsfeld's Georgian Revival, French Eclectic, Colonial Revival and Tudor Revival-style home designs are considered high-value and were given an “S – Significant” rating within Highland Park Architectural Surveys. Most of his houses in Highland Park were constructed between 1925 through 1937 and many are still standing today.

Grunsfeld sponsored exchange programs for architecture students in the U.S. and France. The French government awarded him the Gold Medal Order of Civic Merit and the Chevalier Legion of Honor. He died in 1970, at age of 72, in France.

Some of Grunsfeld's signature houses in Highland Park:

- 1418 Waverly Road - Georgian Revival
- 945 Dean Avenue - French Eclectic
- 910 Baldwin Road - French Eclectic
- 767 Rice Street - Colonial Revival
- 2269 Egandale Road - Tudor Revival
- 650 Sheridan Road - Tudor Revival
- 85 Oakmont Road - French Eclectic

Information provided by the 2001 South Central Survey, Highland Park Historical Society, and Julia Johnas at the Highland Park Public Library and FindAGrave.com. The 2001 South Central Area Survey and other architectural surveys are at www.cityhpil.com/HPC.

Parking Regulations

The goal of the Police Department is to achieve voluntary compliance with State, City and Park District parking restrictions. Trained Police Department sworn and civilian uniformed staff respond to parking complaints and address parking violations on a daily basis. Parking citations may generally be avoided with driver awareness, care and attention. Below are some of the most common State and City parking regulations that should be observed at all times. Most parking fines are $25 unless otherwise noted. Parking is prohibited:

- Without valid disabled license plates or placards in a marked accessible parking space. Occupying an accessible parking space at any time without disabled license plates or placards will result in a $250 fine. No person, regardless of status, may occupy or park in an accessible parking space access aisle (usually striped with yellow or white hash marks)
- In a marked and posted fire lane. Fines are $50
- Within seven and a half feet of a fire hydrant. Fines are $50
- On a sidewalk or City parkway
- In a manner that obstructs ingress or egress from a public or private driveway (parking opposite a driveway increases potential for a vehicle backing into the parked vehicle)
- Within 20 feet of a crosswalk
- Within 30 feet of a stop sign or traffic control device

New Spaces at Highland Park High School

The final phase of the 2013 referendum project is underway. Once the winter weather breaks, the Highland Park High School tennis courts will be resurfaced and the old Deerfield High School pool will be filled, making the space usable for student programs.

The $89 million referendum project included improvements to Highland Park's mechanical systems, addition of air conditioning systems, technology upgrades, and new student learning spaces and athletic facilities.

In August 2016, the new, state of the art C-Building opened. Built on the footprint of the 1914 C-wing, the new space provides 20 classrooms and computer science labs, art studios, innovation spaces, a black box theatre, and scene shop. The classrooms, labs, and spaces were designed to adapt to the needs to instruction and learning, with walls and furniture that can easily be moved and adjusted.

Other projects include classroom renovations and the addition of a new athletic building. The highlights of the the athletic building are the new, 10 lane pool, and the competition gym with bleachers that can accommodate the entire student body. The new building also houses two PE classrooms, the weight room, yoga studio, and dance studio.

The final phase will also include the 10 Year Health and Life Safety Project. During this project, fire doors and handrails will be replaced, and caulking and tuckpointing for the exterior of the buildings will be completed. This work is scheduled for completion by mid-August.
