Local Flood Mitigation Efforts

Nancy R. Roterling

– Mayor Nancy R. Roterling

Long-term flood mitigation is a priority in our hometown and region. The flooding Highland Park experienced in July, impacted 800 homes in our community along with thousands more across Northeast Illinois. Flooding related to extreme weather will not be going away nationwide or in our own backyard without coordinated efforts. We are prepared to take the lead locally.

Recently, staff and I met with Col. Aaron Reisinger, Chicago District Commander for the Army Corps of Engineers, the Federal agency responsible for waterway-related capital projects. We discussed the impact of repeated flooding including public safety risks, quality of life, and public health issues that arise with every flooding event.

We also addressed mitigation options. Skokie River maintenance has not been done in over 15 years and resources don't exist to do so now. Additionally, Col. Reisinger stated that any dredging would have a minimal impact. The possibility of a significant water retention project is also an option. It was clear that the immediate feasibility of any major capital project, particularly one involving the Federal government, is unknown. However, Col. Reisinger understood the magnitude of recurrent flooding and agreed to request an assessment of our circumstances, a critical first step. If a remediation project is deemed feasible, the timeline from study to completion would, at a minimum, be several years.

Every journey begins with the first step. That first step has been taken and we will continue to advocate for local solutions at all levels of government. We will keep you posted.

Voluntary Floodplain Buy Out Program

Letters and questionnaires have been mailed out by Lake County to qualifying candidates for the Lake County Stormwater Management Commission's (SMC) Voluntary Floodplain Buyout Program. The deadline to return the questionnaire is September 18, 2017.

Information and qualification material for the Lake County Stormwater Management Commission's (SMC) Voluntary Floodplain Buyout Program is on the City's website at cityhpil.com. Residents should contact the floodplain buyout program lead Sharon Osterby at 847.377.7706 or sosterby@lakecountyil.gov with any questions. All buyouts are strictly voluntary and typically take several months from initiation to completion.

Shopping Local Matters

When you have shopping to do, it's tempting to head to a nearby mall – or just browse online. Major chain stores and internet retailers offer a huge selection, plus the convenience of one-stop shopping. On top of that, their prices are often lower than the local stores. But keeping your dollars in Highland Park has advantages that are just as important as saving a few dollars.

Shopping locally creates a stronger economy. Local businesses often hire local workers. In addition to staff, they hire local architects and contractors for building and remodeling, local accountants and insurance brokers to help them run the business, and local ad agencies to promote it. All these factors together create a "multiplier effect," meaning that each dollar spent in a local store can bring as much as $3.50 into the local economy. By contrast, shopping online tends to displace local jobs and often drives local retailers out of business. Shopping locally also creates a closer community because it gives neighbors a chance to connect with each other.

Local businesses simply make Highland Park a better, more interesting place to live. Highland Park is home to over 900 businesses, including more than 75 restaurants, food specialty shops, clothing boutiques, jewelers, home furnishings stores, gift shops, toy shops, children's clothing shops, cosmetic stores, arts & crafts shops, personal training facilities, wellness centers, lawyers offices, accounting firms, insurance agencies, real estate agencies, asset managers, tailors, and so much more, which all combine to give Highland Park its unique character.

The bottom-line is that shopping local matters. When you invest money in your local economy, you're not just helping local business owners – you're also helping yourself. You make our community a better place to live, with a rich character, a thriving economy. And the more local businesses prosper, the more new ones will open – making it even easier to continue shopping locally in the future. To learn more about our local businesses visit the City's website at cityhpil.com.

Visit the City's Recycling Center

Electronic items such as televisions, monitors, computers and printers are some of the most common household items not allowed to be placed in regular trash pick-up. What should you do to dispose them? Stop by City of Highland Park's Recycling Center!

City of Highland Park, partnering with the Solid Waste Agency of Lake County (SWALCO), provides a drop-off recycling site primarily for Lake County residents. Please note Recycling Center accepts electronic items only from residential properties, no commercial, institutional or governmental electronics items will be accepted.

The Recycling Center, located at 1180 Half Day Road, is open year-round on Tuesdays and the first Saturday of each month, from 7 AM to 1 PM (closed on City-observed holidays). Electronic items to be dropped off should be free of any packaging material. Recycle packaging materials such as cardboard boxes and printed manuals should be disposed with your regular household recycling wastes. In addition to electronics, other items accepted at Recycling Center include #6 foam, unbroken fluorescent light bulbs and rechargeable batteries. Clothing and textile recycling is also available in a self-service collection bin located by the Recycling Center.

A recent addition to Recycling Center is the Reuse-A-Shoe program. Not only are old shoes given a second life and kept out of landfills. Pairs of shoes (all types except for rollerblades, ice skates and winter boots) may be dropped off at the Recycling Center. Shoes should be tied together or paired with a rubber band.

As a reminder, Highland Park residents' current waste hauler, Lakeshore Recycling Systems (LRS) allows one large electronic waste item to be placed curbside on the customer's first pickup of each month at no additional charge. However, items over 50 pounds will incur additional fees. To ensure your electronic recycling items are collected, you must call LRS at 773.685.8811 to schedule your pick-up.

For a complete listing of accepted items and additional information on City of Highland Park Recycling Center, please visit www.cityhpil.com/recycling.

Free Spring Cleanup Offered Year-Round

Spring cleanup is offered year-round through Lakeshore Recycling System's (LRS) bulk item pickup service. Residential refuse customers can place one bulk item at the curb each week for free on their regular pickup day.

LRS will take one 'Bulk' item that can be safely removed and is under 50 pounds (tables, chairs, mattresses etc.). This does not include white goods such as appliances. No sticker or container is required for these bulk items.

LRS does recommend calling ahead to let them know that the item is being placed on the curb. This will ensure the truck is prepared to collect the item.

If more than one bulk item is left out for pickup, a refuse sticker will need to be attached to the item.

To schedule a bulk item pickup at anytime throughout the year or if you have any questions about bulk item pickup, please call Lakeshore Recycling System at 773.685.8811.

Co-Existing With Nuisance Animals

Recently, the City has experienced an increase in skunk activity. The City has historically practiced a no-kill policy pertaining to domestic and uninjured wild animals and strongly encourages citizens to respect and co-exist with wildlife. Like many other North Shore Communities, the City will not intervene with nuisance wildlife on private properties unless there is an in progress public safety threat. The following information is provided to assist residents with understanding and mitigating skunk activity on private properties.

Skunks - Striped skunks are common throughout the United States and Canada. Skunks breed in late February, give birth in May or June and can produce litters between 2 to 16 skunks. Often by the fall, off-spring separate from their mother, becoming self-dependent, and seeking new territory to occupy. Skunks are very active during the fall, scavenging for plant and animal food before they hibernate during the coldest portion of winter. The average lifespan of a skunk is three years. Skunks populations are usually controlled and managed by curious dogs, the Great Horned Owl and automobiles. Citizens can make their properties less appealing to skunks by trimming back overgrown landscaping, filling in any holes on their properties, sealing off areas under decks, removing any yard debris & outdoor wood piles, cease the use of birdseed on their properties, removing water sources, properly storing garbage, utilizing motion sensor lights at night, and making noise prior to exiting a residence or vehicle at night to scare off any skunks lingering in the area.

Citizens are encouraged to report deceased skunks on public roadways and properties to the Police Department via the non-emergency number 847.432.7730. Community Service Officers will remove the deceased animal as soon as possible.

Residents may elect to contract with private animal control services to trap and remove nuisance skunks on their properties.

Homeowners: Driveway Approach Curb and Sidewalk Maintenance

The driveway approach or apron is the area within the public right-of-way, typically from the sidewalk to the street. For driveways that do not have an adjacent sidewalk, the public right-of-way is approximately 30'-33' from the center line of the roadway. The infrastructure associated with the driveway approach within the public right-of-way typically includes the sidewalk along the driveway, the driveway approach (asphalt or concrete or pavers), and the curb over driveway (depressed or mountable).

City Code Section 93.255 requires property owners to maintain the infrastructure within the driveway approach, as noted above. The Code requires the infrastructure to be in good repair, free from obstructions and openings, clear of snow and ice, and in a safe condition for pedestrian and vehicular travel.

For more information on driveway approach maintenance, please contact the Public Works Department Streets Section staff at 847.432.0807 during normal business hours.
