Hello everyone,

I'm catching up on emails. Thank you so much for your outreach and support.

Please let me know what is discussed at the meeting. We are so grateful for the outpouring of community support as we all grieve together and support everyone who has been impacted by this horrific act of violence. We will share the resources that you have available on all of our communication modalities. Please provide us with information and we will follow-up if we have questions. I've copied my colleague Emily Taub on this email so you have her contact information too.

Thank you.

Israel Trauma Coalition at a Glance

Who We Are

ITC is a non-profit partnership of NGOs specializing in both proactive and reactive emergency preparedness, building resilience and trauma care. Working closely with Home Front Command and key government ministries, municipalities, NGO's and the private sector, we strengthen individuals and communities to cope better with crisis and build sustainable resilience. For nearly two decades, ITC has prioritized its work to tackle crises, providing emergency preparedness initiatives and post-trauma community rehabilitation – leveraging our unique knowledge and expertise. We have invested in both prevention and expediting recovery from crises.

We are the leaders in the field of trauma in size, impact and innovation.

What We Do

Support of ITC's mission in helping people in crisis is the most fundamental expression of human solidarity.

DIRECT TRAUMA CARE

Professional, experienced teams of clinical service providers, identify needs and provide short term, long term and focused trauma care.

PROFESSIONAL TRAINING AND SUPPORT

Caring can hurt. We are dedicated to ensuring that trauma care professionals including health, welfare, social and educational providers remain not only current in their knowledge and skills but also healthy, stable and resilient, we provide caregivers with both professional and personal support.

EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS

ITC prepares cities, local councils, organizations and businesses both nationally and internationally for crisis today and well into the future. Preparing emergency preparedness protocols and providing a cost effective way to train local professionals, emergency service personnel, volunteers, community service providers, educational, health teams and leaders from the local business communities.

Ukraine crisis

Since 2014, ITC has been supporting and training professionals in Ukraine. Currently, ITC supports a virtual community of approximately 2,500 Ukrainian trauma professionals, including doctors, psychologists, psychiatrists and social workers. The aim is to develop a significant professional cadre, composed of Ukrainian trauma specialists. Within the Ukraine Envelope: Poland, Moldova, Hungary, Bulgaria, the Czech Republic and Montenegro, ITC trains staff at refugee absorption sites (volunteers, center managers, social workers, community leaders, support professionals-nurses and teachers) in emotional first aid, trauma care and self-care tools, team preservation and reduction of attrition.

In Israel, ITC is training local council teams responsible for the care and support of new immigrants and refugees from Ukraine in provision of emotional first aid, identifying trauma and signs of distress, grief and bereavement, self-care tools. ITC also works with immigration and absorption teams (including Jewish Agency teams, government ministries, social workers and educational consultants) that provide support for new immigrants and refugees.

Other Challenges:

On-going support for medical teams: From the very outset of the COVID-19 pandemic, many medical teams have worked extremely long hours in high-pressure environments. This pandemic has demanded extraordinary physical and mental effort from these healthcare workers. ITC is working with teams who require specialized attention to their wellbeing, tools to cope with the psychosocial pressure, to sustain and strengthen their resilience and to learn coping skills for themselves and their patients.

Emergency preparedness: The country is at a critical juncture and needs to be ready at any given moment to fight on multiple fronts including a terror war in Gaza and the West Bank, a conventional war on the Syrian/Lebanon borders and an armed uprising throughout the country. In any of these scenarios, natural disasters, terror or war there is also a possibility of mass evacuation of the populace from border regions. The new reality is that each Local Council Authority and community will be responsible for its own emergency preparedness and response. ITC is working with communities on the frontline to build their emergency preparedness and response capacity.

Achievements

- ITC's 12 Resilience Centers have become the central address for immediate, pro-active intervention, training and real time relief. Each Resilience Center (5 Southern centers, 4 Judea and Samaria, Ashkelon, Netivot and Bedouin Resilience Center) prepares customized emergency preparedness programs for local communities based on their needs, population and culture, creates a continuum of care including providing trauma-focused psychological treatment and builds community resilience by developing cohesion, teaching coping skills and forming volunteer emergency response teams.
- ADEPT Academy for Domestic Emergency Preparedness and Training (ADEPT) a partnership with Home Front Command. The Academy provides municipal community leaders and institutions with the tools required to aid their communities in preventing, protecting, responding to, and recovering from both manmade and natural disasters.
- International efforts Israel's experience preparing for and coping with crisis and terror makes Israeli trauma experts amongst the most knowledgeable on the global map. Our international work relies on experience and concepts developed over many years in emergency preparedness and trauma care in Israel. Teams of ITC experts share their knowledge and help local professionals establish recovery and rehabilitation programs in response to both manmade and natural disasters. ITC trains local care providers leaving behind a more robust civilian resilience network.
- N.Y following 9/11, Beslan 2004 terror attack in school, Mississippi 2005 Hurricane, Sri Lanka 2005 Tsunami, War in Chechnya 2006, Haiti 2010 earthquake, Japan 2012 earthquake, the Philippines 2013 Typhoon Yolanda, Boston 2013 terrorist attack, Ukraine 2014 and on-going civil war, Jordan 2015 Syrian refugees, France 2015 terror attacks, Nepal 2015 earthquake, work with Disaster Coalition in the Bronx, Ecuador, earthquake 2016, Mexico earthquake 2017, Las Vegas mass shooting 2017, Pittsburg synagogue shooting 2018, and Miami school shooting 2018.
 Our partners over the years have included WHO, UNICEF, EU, Council of Europe, and Pompidou Group among others.
- U.N Recognition 2019 Israel Trauma Coalition (ITC) was recognized as an advisory body to the Economic and Social Council (ECOSOC) of the United Nations. In a unanimous decision the UN Committee on Non-Governmental Organizations (NGOs), conferred on ITC the highest status a non-governmental organization can achieve at the global level.

ITC: Because no one can do it alone.

Newtown Ct Support

[EXTERNAL EMAIL]

Dear Mayor Rotering

Please know that even if it's in quiet solitude, our community is in full support of yours.

It's odd for two communities that reside so far apart in distance can be such close neighbors in pain and grief.

I usually send a note to all of the towns, cities, school systems etc. and try and to let them know they are not alone and I feel that I have sent far too many.

Almost 10 years ago in my sons school we crawled and wept through the same horror that your beautiful city is processing at the moment.

When I heard of your incident I was gardening with my wife and children. We were unable to do that in our Newtown yard for a while. (Time takes time) We also know that love and only love will carry the families and residents past their next days and months when everything else fails.

Arguing politics and mental health and gun control was all done on the surface. It is underneath and inside everyone that counts now. That is where the healing resides.

We wish you moments of peace and understanding on your journey.

With Love,

Dennis Stratford and family

Much of what you need to know is in the attached Best Practices, including about Meal Trains. It is a trauma-informed document that is constantly evolving. If you come across any questions that are not addressed here, we probably know the answer. We have all, unfortunately, lived through this. I've worked behind the scenes on over 35 mass shooting over 10 years.

One of our board members, David Bilu is connecting with the Patrol Commander now. David was the head of Alumni at Marjory Stoneman Douglas. He helped organize the meal trains for the Parkland families, knows how they work and how to keep families safe and addresses private while still providing the service.

By the way, we and Danielle Sharfman and we have joined forces on a Victims Fund and I've already spoken to Kenneth Feinberg (special master on 9/11, Boston Bombing, Orlando, Aurora, Newtown) who I know well. He is very happy to help out.

This happened in Uvalde as well. It's these mealtrains. Best intentions creating possible safety issues (we know first-hand). We had tried to prevent it here. There is a safe way to do mealtrains (see below from our Best Practices). Screenshots attached.

Meal Trains

When organizing meal trains for victims and/or family members, it is important to keep addresses private and off the Internet for public consumption for the sake of the victim bases' safety. In Parkland, we found multiple times that people would sign up to "help" for meal trains with an ulterior motive to gain the victims' families and survivors' addresses for their own personal gain. To avoid this, we had multiple volunteers set up on a nightly basis to truly help on the meal train. We had a volunteer pick up from the restaurant, then hand the food off to another person Authorized by the families to have the home address and deliver the food to the location. This maintains privacy.

As per the news conference yesterday Bobby Crimo was authorized a gun purchase because his application was several months after it was reported to police that he threatened to kill his family and at which time several knives were removed from the home by the police.

So gun applications do not initiate a look back? Gun applications are denied for concurrent background checks only?

[EXTERNAL EMAIL]

Good evening, my name is Eric Rinehart, I am the Lake County State's Attorney ... as a resident of Highland Park MYSELF ... my family and I grieve with our neighbors over this unimaginable tragedy.

On behalf of the SAO, I want to express my condolences to the families of those who lost their lives yesterday in this premediated and calculated attack.

Separate from those 7 lives that were ripped away, over two dozen other mothers, fathers, sons, daughter, friends, neighbors and loved ones were injured by gunfire yesterday. Hundreds if not thousands more will be psychologically scarred by yesterday's events. These individuals, Highland Park, and Lake County will not be the same.

The SAO is grateful to the courageous law enforcement officers who were there when gun shots were first fired and the numerous other law enforcement agencies from around Lake County and the State that responded to assist. Federal agencies including the FBI and ATF and US Attorneys Office have been critical partners in the investigation.

Not only did police run towards the gunshots, help the wounded, and comfort families after heartbreaking news, but they also worked tirelessly throughout the day and into the night to investigate and solve the case. In just a matter of hours, they were able to identify and apprehend the suspect. I want to also thank the community members and businesses who shared dozens of videos and photos that helped law enforcement identify the suspect.

To those who are physically and psychologically suffering today, we offer our most urgent prayers for healing – even though that feels so far away.

I know that Mayor Rotering, Highland Park Police Chief Jogmen, Lake County, and our federal partners have already started the critical work of supporting these individuals who remain in the throes of trauma. Today, our office deployed victim witness counselors and a licensed therapist to Highland Park to assist in every way possible. Dozens of private individuals have volunteered to support these families. The outpouring has been as uplifting as anything I have seen in Lake County

This loss of life, these devastating injuries, and the overwhelming psychological trauma DEMAND that we seek justice in this case and that we take broader action to protect the preciousness of life.

Today, our office has charged ROBERT CRIMO WITH SEVEN counts of FIRST-DEGREE MURDER for the killing spree that he unleashed against our community. These are just the first of many charges we will bring against him in light of the enormous damage that he has caused to so many. We anticipate dozens more charges with a set of charges for each person injured and also charges that takes into account those who were not injured.

Again, these charges would not be possible without the heroic efforts of law enforcement and the tireless efforts of the men and women of the STATE'S ATTORNEY'S OFFICE who have been working with law enforcement as soon as the suspect was identified. We continue to work with our federal partners to understand every aspect of this well-orchestrated, and carefully planned crime.

Tomorrow morning, we will bring him to a judge to ask that he be held in the LAKE COUNTY JAIL without bond on these seven murder cases.

As I mentioned, our support for the victims started today. We will guide them through the court process and even beyond as they deal with trauma that will ripple forever. But how do we make sure there are no more victims?

What should have been the celebration of the freedom, has ended in despair for our community. All the people who died, lost their freedom ... the freedom to grow old, the freedom to love, to live their lives. Their freedom matters. What are we going to do ...

Illinois has a strong red flag law that keeps communities safe and respects everyone rights. WE NEED TO VASTLY INCREASE awareness and education about Illinois firearm restraining order process. The Firearms Restraining Order (FRO) allows family/household members, and law enforcement to work with courts to temporarily remove guns and prevent the purchase of new guns by individuals who pose a significant risk of harm to themselves or others. The FRO is a civil procedure, not a criminal one. The goal is to ensure the safety of the individual and those around them.

This tool allows temporary removal of guns from the subject of the order and prohibits new purchases for the duration of the order. This creates safer circumstances for the individual to seek treatment, stabilize their behavior, or access resources to address the underlying causes of their dangerous behaviors.

Separate from the red flag laws – we should ban assault weapons in Illinois and beyond. This assault weapon ban was achieved on a bi-partisan level and with the support of law enforcement. We need to reinstate the ban on both the federal and state level.

Our Violent Crimes Unit will continue to work with all of our law enforcement partners to continue to build this case – it remains an ongoing and active investigation.

Our Victim Services Unit will be there to answer every question, every text, and every concern. We will stand with the survivors of this awful crime for as long as is necessary.

In the courtroom, we will seek the maximum sentence against this offender – not because we seek vengeance, but because justice and the healing process demands it.

As we go forward in the courtroom and in the community must do everything possible to make sure this never happens again.

Cabinet Members, Party Leadership Abandon Johnson's Sinking Ship

Chancellor Rishi Sunak and Health Secretary Sajid Javid quit British Prime Minister Boris Johnson's government within minutes of each other Tuesday. They were followed out the door by junior staffers and the dramatic exit of Conservative Party Vice Chair Bim Afolami, who resigned on live TV. He said the handling of a sexual misconduct investigation into MP Chris Pincher was "really appalling." Johnson has won many battles before, but he may soon lose the war. Chicago July 4 Suspect Charged in Gun Violence Horror Weekend

Lake County State's Attorney Eric Rinehart said the seven counts of first-degree murder are only the start in the investigation into Robert E. Crimo III after the Highland Park parade massacre. "These are just the first of many charges that will be filed against Mr. Crimo, I want to emphasize that," Rinehart said. Authorities confirmed Crimo had legally purchased five guns despite prior threats and incidents with police. The Gun Violence Archive reported that the Highland Park tragedy was part of a surge in gun violence over the holiday weekend, as at least 220 Americans were killed, including in 11 mass shootings. Trump Allies to Face Atlanta Grand Jury Over 2020 Claims

Former President Donald Trump's personal lawyer Rudy Giuliani and Sen. Lindsey Graham have been subpoenaed to appear before a grand jury in Georgia's Fulton County, along with a handful of Trump's legal advisers. The jury has been hearing testimony on the campaign's efforts to win the state, including Trump's infamous call to Georgia Secretary of State Brad Raffensperger demanding he "find 11,780 votes." Graham is alleged to have contacted Raffensperger and his staff twice "about reexamining certain absentee ballots cast in Georgia in order to explore the possibility of a more favorable outcome," according to the subpoena. Oil Stabilizes, but Americans Still Feel Pinch of Inflation

Crude oil has firmed around $100 a barrel as China's post-lockdown consumption ramps up and uncertainty around a potential U.S. recession balances out. "While the odds of a recession are indeed rising, it is premature for the oil market to be succumbing to such concerns," one Goldman Sachs analyst said. It's a relief for consumers struggling with the highest prices in decades. Americans are turning to their savings to make up the difference. The personal saving rate, which shows how much money people are squirreling away, dropped to 5.4% in May, down from a record high of 34% in April 2020. (Sources: Bloomberg, WSJ)

Show's Over for Rare Art Collaboration Between West and China

The Times Art Center Berlin, an offshoot of the Guangdong Times Museum in Guangzhou, is closing its doors after just four years, but hinted at a possible future reopening. It had been one of a dwindling few Chinese museums in the West, championing works from China and around the world. A statement said the museum had fallen prey to a "historic moment of global crises, when socio-political turbulences have already, or will soon, affect every aspect of our lives." The statement didn't spell out specific issues, but noted that "growing hostility between nations and cultures" had made the partnership difficult. (Sources: Art News, Art Review)

Vacationers in Kanagawa prefecture, south of Tokyo, can head to the beach safe in the knowledge that AI is hard at work protecting them. The popular surfing spot reopened this month for the first time since the pandemic began, and researchers from the Japan Lifesaving Association and Tokyo's Chuo University have used much of that shutdown time to perfect the technology. A web camera monitors the water and identifies rip currents and swimmers near them, sending real-time data to lifeguards. (Source: The Guardian)

It roamed what is now the west of the U.S. and Canada during the late Cretaceous Period, 10 million years before the first T. rex hatched. Gorgosaurus skeletons can be found in museum collections, but this 10-foot-tall, 22-foot-long beast is the only one available for private purchase. It was unearthed in Montana in 2018 and is expected to sell for up to $8 million. (Source: AP)

Chicago July 4 Suspect Charged in Gun Violence Horror Weekend

Lake County State's Attorney Eric Rinehart said the seven counts of first-degree murder are only the start in the investigation into Robert E. Crimo III after the Highland Park parade massacre. "These are just the first of many charges that will be filed against Mr. Crimo, I want to emphasize that," Rinehart said. Authorities confirmed Crimo had legally purchased five guns despite prior threats and incidents with police. The Gun Violence Archive reported that the Highland Park tragedy was part of a surge in gun violence over the holiday weekend, as at least 220 Americans were killed, including in 11 mass shootings. Oil Stabilizes, but Americans Still Feel Pinch of Inflation

Crude oil has firmed around $100 a barrel as China's post-lockdown consumption ramps up and uncertainty around a potential U.S. recession balances out. "While the odds of a recession are indeed rising, it is premature for the oil market to be succumbing to such concerns," one Goldman Sachs analyst said. It's a relief for consumers struggling with the highest prices in decades. Americans are turning to their savings to make up the difference. The personal saving rate, which shows how much money people are squirreling away, dropped to 5.4% in May, down from a record high of 34% in April 2020. (Sources: Bloomberg, WSJ)

Good morning, Chicago.

The parents of a toddler. A father of eight and grandfather to many. A synagogue employee known for her kindness. A family man who loved the arts. The victims of a mass shooting during the Highland Park Independence Day parade are coming to be identified. Seven people are dead and some two dozen others injured, ranging in age from 8 to 85 years old.

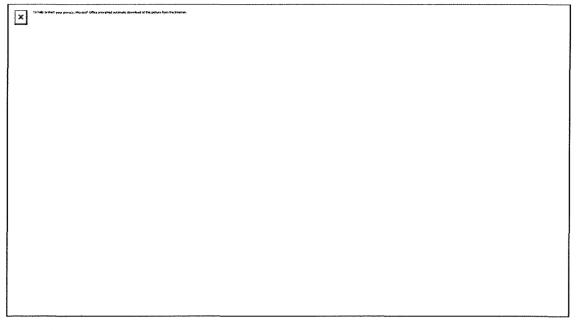

On Tuesday, Robert E. "Bobby" Crimo III, 21, was charged with seven counts of first-degree murder in what Lake County State's Attorney Eric Rinehart called a "premeditated and calculated attack." Rinehart said he anticipates dozens more charges as the investigation continues.

Crimo planned the parade attack for weeks, police and prosecutors allege, then climbed a fire escape ladder to the roof of a building and fired as the Independence Day parade was in full swing. He dressed as a woman in order to evade detection, according to Chris Covelli, a spokesman with the Lake County Major Crime Task Force. The gun that was used in the attack was purchased legally in Illinois by Crimo, authorities said. Here are the top stories you need to know to start your day.

Alleged shooter in Highland Park July 4th parade attack charged with 7 counts of murder in 'premeditated and calculated attack'

Robert E. "Bobby" Crimo III, 21, was charged with seven counts of first-degree murder in what Lake County State's Attorney Eric Rinehart called a "premeditated and calculated attack." Crimo was apprehended late Monday afternoon following an hourslong search involving more than 100 law enforcement agencies.

Details about the attack and the background of the alleged shooter emerged throughout Tuesday, as the Highland Park community continued grieving the losses. Authorities said that in 2019 police were called to Crimo's home after he threatened to "kill everyone," but he wasn't arrested.

Under new management: The Illinois GOP: Today's Juice, by Greg Hinz

After decades of trying, the Illinois GOP's pro-family, pro-gun, pro-life conservative wing finally has the victory it long has sought in Darren Bailey's rout of party establishment favorite Richard Irvin in the gubernatorial primary. Some past GOP nominees may have come close, but Bailey is the real deal for the hard right and everyone knows it.

But like the proverbial dog who finally caught the fire truck, what are the populist masses going to do with it in a state that remains overwhelmingly Democratic? In particular, can Bailey & Co. patch things up with the party's business wing, which, despite its steady loss of influence in recent years, still pays the bills—even Bailey's, as in the $17 million he got from packaging billionaire Richard Uihlein.

Let's start with the positive.

Even with Uihlein's help—and even bigger intervention from incumbent Democratic Gov. J.B. Pritzker—the conservatives won, and sheer winning sometimes breeds its own inertia. "Establishment politicians thought they could dictate to the rest of us," crows former state Rep. Jeanne Ives, who almost beat then-incumbent GOP Gov. Bruce Rauner in the primary four years ago. "They got it wrong."

"There is a path to victory in November, absolutely, 100%," adds Ives. The key in her view is to talk about "core issues that matter to voters." That's not abortion and other hot-button issues that Pritzker will seek to focus on, but school choice, high taxes, government mismanagement, corporate exits (Boeing and Caterpillar) and a flawed energy bill that passed on Pritzker's watch.

Earlier: A post-primary primer: Who is Darren Bailey?

Similar advice comes from two-time gubernatorial candidate Kirk Dillard, whose politics are sharply different from Ives' but whose bottom line is similar: Talk about crime and other kitchen-table issues, he counsels. "In this environment, with (President) Joe Biden's low approval numbers, anything is possible," especially if Bailey spends most of the campaign working Chicago's suburbs.

Less optimistic is megafundraiser Ron Gidwitz, a card-carrying corporate moderate who served as Donald Trump's ambassador to Belgium.

"My guess is that that the Republican donor class is basically going to wait and see what Dick Uihlein says" before opening its wallet, he predicts. Will Gidwitz open his wallet? "I don't know Mr. Bailey," he replies. "Right now, I am finance co-chair of the National Republican Senatorial Committee. I am going to focus on that."

Indeed, the lack of money could hobble Bailey before he gets started. Pritzker is already airing ads in an effort to define Bailey as a Trump acolyte who's too extreme to trust, much as Jim Edgar defined general election foe Dawn Clark Netsch in the leftward direction a generation ago. It won't help Bailey that he's given Pritzker plenty of material work with—or that the days when the state party's nominee could get a big check from Citadel owner Ken Griffin are over.

Related: What we learned from the 2022 Illinois primary election

Bailey's team is aware of that concern and has taken some steps to deal with it. For instance, the same outspoken conservatism that has turned off some of the corporate guys could be a real boost in getting lots of money in small chunks on the internet, which smiles on loudly declared views. Bailey also appears to have decided to keep Illinois GOP Chairman Don Tracy on the job instead of moving to dump him for his own candidate, as often happens. Tracy was in Effingham for Bailey's election night party and the gesture was noted. "If he'll work with us, we'll work with him," says one insider.

It also will help that, like Pritzker, Bailey has an affable manner that will play well with many voters. And that a huge red tide nationally surely will at least lap at Illinois' shores.

Still, even this year, Bailey almost certainly is going to have to attack the middle if he wants to win. No more barbs like how Chicago is a "hellhole." And if he's going to win, Bailey's base is going to have to let him do the things it takes to win.

Bottom line: The Illinois GOP has new owners, at least for now. We'll see if they can do any better than the old crew against long odds.

Former Ald. Patrick Daley Thompson-scion of Chicago's political dynasty-will learn his fate this morning at a sentencing hearing. It follows the tax conviction that forced him to resign from office earlier this year.

Daley Thompson—the grandson of the late Richard J. Daley, former mayor and political boss, and nephew of former mayor Richard M. Daley—resigned in disgrace in February after being convicted of lying to federal authorities filing false tax returns, false mortgage interest deductions and failing to make payments or interest payments on loans from the failed Washington Federal Bank for Savings.

United States Attorney John Lausch is seeking a two-year prison term for Daley Thompson, rejecting a plea by the former aldermen's attorney requesting leniency.

"That defendant was willing to compromise his integrity and violate the law for a relatively small amount of money underscores the seriousness of defendant's pattern of offenses," Lausch wrote in a court filing in June.

A dome? On Soldier Field?!? It might happen.

It's been whispered and murmured about before, but a big change to Chicago's stadium landscape akin to adding lights to Wrigley Field-if not bigger-is reportedly closer to reality. A mayoral committee is ready to recommend that the city "explore the feasibility" of putting a dome atop Soldier Field in an effort to make the facility more attractive to potential users, including the Chicago

Bears.

What kind of dome or roof is yet to be determined as is whether or not it might actually persuade Da Bears to stay put. Greg Hinz has more at the link above, including a list of other key parts of the proposal that focuses on a makeover of many parts of the Museum Campus.

CRIMO APPEARANCE / FOX NEWS INQUIRY

[EXTERNAL EMAIL]

Hello

Reaching out from Fox News Channel.

I have a few questions regarding Robert Crimo III court appearance this morning. When you have a moment – are you able to quickly tell me:

- 1) Is the hearing at 1000CT? Or will it take place at some place after 1000CT?
- 2) Will we be given a zoom link to monitor the hearing for editorial purposes?
- 3) Will Crimo appear in person at the courthouse or will he appear remotely from jail?
- 4) How long is the hearing expected to last?
- 5) Will the pool photos of the appearance just be screen grabs of the zoom?

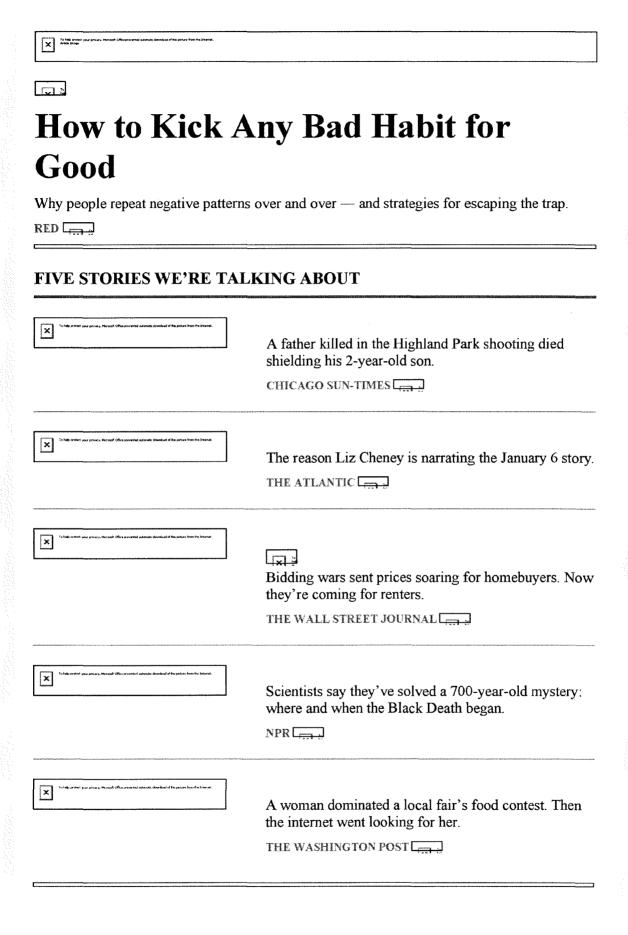

Thank you

Melissa,

Thank you so much for starting a meal train for The Goldstein Family. Just wanted to alert you that your best intentions could open the door for a safety issue for the family.

We have seen this happen in the past. In fact, we've lived it. One mother of a murdered child ended up having to open her mail with rubber gloves because her address ended up on social media.

There are a lot of crazy people out there. We have suggested guidelines that worked pretty well in Parkland, that kept victims safe while being able to provide meals.

Please, if you would, consider this for protecting this family. Again, thank you for your kind and beautiful heart. No doubt you are pure intentioned and compassionate.

If you would like to speak to someone about this, please let me know, and I will hook you up with one of the organizers of meal trains after the shooting in Parkland. It kept families safe, fed and maintained privacy. He is on our board.

This is how Parkland did it:

Meal Trains

When organizing meal trains for victims and/or family members, it is important to keep addresses private and off the Internet for public consumption for the sake of the victim bases' safety. In Parkland, we found multiple times that people would sign up to "help" for meal trains with an ulterior motive to gain the victims' families and survivors' addresses for their own personal gain. To avoid this, we had multiple volunteers set up on a nightly basis to truly help on the meal train. We had a volunteer pick up from the restaurant, then hand the food off to another person Authorized by the families to have the home address and deliver the food to the location. Q: With all the recent controversial Supreme Court decisions, can our school restrict what the students wear even if it expresses a political message?

A: Maybe. The Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals has acknowledged that a school can justify restrictions on speech activities if the school can show that the speech "would materially and substantially disrupt the work and discipline of the school" or invade the rights of others. That standard was established in a previ-ous U.S. Supreme Court case called Tinker v. Des Moines Independent Comm. Sch. Dist, involving a First Amendment challenge to school policies that prohibited students from wearing black armbands to express opposition to the Vietnam War. For your school to enforce a policy that restricts certain messages on clothing it will have to survive analysis under this legal framework.

Thinking of you / Today at 10 a.m.

[EXTERNAL EMAIL]

Good morning,

I just woke up thinking about the three of you and wondering if you have had time to engage in any of this support. Some of the Library staff will be attending this meeting remotely, and I thought that might be easier for you to attend if you need to. Here is the Teams link: Click here to join the meeting

Today, 10 a.m.-12 p.m., Dr. Steiner from Therapy For Police, Fire First Responders Wellness Center Lombard & Deerfield For the last 15 minutes, I'll cover talking points for staff, i.e. privacy, media, responses to patrons, etc. We'll be a mix of people who were there and people who weren't who want to understand and help. One thing that typically happens at the Library is that patrons want to talk with us about things. It was that way with January 6, COVID surges, etc.

We're a very empathetic and supportive bunch, and privacy is one of our top values. I think you could feel safe with us, even if you only have a few minutes to log in and join us. Or we'll be just next door if you're at City Hall. Call me at 847-651-8452 and I'll let you in. This meeting yesterday helped me, and I'd do anything to help you and your team. Please just say the word.

Thank you so much for the work you do for me and my family. Words don't do it justice. Heidi

Hi all,

Brian, thank you so much for coordinating the meeting this morning. I thought it was so helpful, I asked Dr. Steiner to come speak with Library staff tomorrow. We just happened to have our regular staff meeting scheduled for tomorrow. Please feel free to share this with any of your team who missed today and would like to attend. They could email me at hsmith@hplibrary.org for details for access as needed.

Highland Park Public Library Wednesday, July 6, 10 a.m. All library staff and any of our government partners

Thank you, Heidi

- for public consumption for the sake of the victim bases' safety. In Parkland, we found multiple times that people would sign up to "help" for meal trains with an ulterior motive to gain the victims' families and survivors' addresses for their own personal gain. To avoid this, we had multiple volunteers set up on a nightly basis to truly help on the meal train. We had a volunteer pick up from the restaurant, then hand the food off to another person Authorized by the families to have the home address and deliver the food to the location. This maintains privacy.
