FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Leonard Ludi Accepts Village Administrator Position

Ludi set to take the reins in February 2024

Kronenwetter, WI – The Village of Kronenwetter has a new village administrator. Leonard Ludi accepted this position on January 17, 2024, after the Kronenwetter Village Board approved the hire during a special board meeting on Monday, January 15, 2024.

Ludi most recently served as Kronenwetter’s public works director. He took on that role in September 2023. In just a few short months he has proven to be an invaluable part of the team.

Ludi brings nearly three decades of experience and knowledge to the position. Design, engineering, construction, economic development, legal studies, water operation and master planning are all in his wheelhouse. He has worked with ten different government entities in seven different states. Prior to his work as Kronenwetter’s public works director, Ludi was the director of public works for the Pueblo of Laguna in Laguna, New Mexico.

“I feel my work can make a difference here,” Ludi said. “I’ve been in community development planning for almost 30 years in various public works projects, including social and economic strategic planning for many communities. These include participating in housing priority authorities, public and safety command centers, various infrastructure committees and health and wellness committees.”

Ludi will begin the new administrator role on February 4, 2024.

Peter Kampfer, who had been hired as the new village administrator in September 2023 and scheduled to start in December 2023, was unable to take the position due to personal reasons. The Village Board rescinded his offer during the January 8, 2024 Village Board meeting.
