5. A comprehensive list of city-related activities, events, festivals and recreation programs is available on the city's website. The Events webpage is updated weekly.

6. Myrtle Beach honored fallen heroes with the Jack Platt Veterans Walk on Ocean Boulevard on Monday, and that's the subject of our Photos of the Week. A World War II veteran, the late Jack Platt was a firm believer in recognizing Memorial Day with a walk on Ocean Boulevard. This year's rainy weather kept numbers low, but spirits were high, as veterans and family members walked in honor of those who gave the ultimate sacrifice. This annual Memorial Day tradition concludes with a Battlefield Cross Ceremony, conducted by the Combat Veterans Motorcycle Association at the former Pavilion site. The Battlefield Cross is a touching tribute to the men and women who were buried where they fell or in one of many "stone gardens" here and in countries across the world, where the United States has defended freedom. To view these photos and more, visit our Photos of the Week Library webpage.

7. Did you know... That Chapin Memorial Library celebrates its 74th anniversary on June 1, 2023? A public library originally opened in 1939 on North Kings Highway in the old Chamber of Commerce building, which was unused at the time. That library started with 501 books. During World War II, the library moved to the Chapin Company building as part of the government recreation program for soldiers stationed at the Myrtle Beach Army Air Field. The library returned to the Chamber building following the war, but relocated in May 1947 to the old USO building in the 1200 block of North Ocean Boulevard, before briefly moving back to the Chapin Company. In August 1948, the Chapin Foundation provided $40,000 for a library building on city parkland and $2,000 more for landscaping. The city's Chapin Memorial Library opened June 1, 1949, in its current location and has been expanded four times. It's the only city-owned library in the state.
