Roseville and Eastpointe Joint Parks and Recreation Master Plan Survey

Welcome to your Community Survey

The Recreation Authority of Roseville and Eastpointe (RARE), City of Roseville, and City of Eastpointe are working together to update the Five-Year Joint Parks and Recreation Master Plan. A Parks and Recreation Plan creates an inventory of existing facilities and resources, identifies community recreation and open space needs, and sets a plan of action for the next five years. This plan is also required for both cities to be eligible to apply for grants offered by the State of Michigan. We invite you to participate in your community's planning process.

This questionnaire is anonymous. Your participation and input will be a valuable resource for our community. Your results from this questionnaire will be tabulated, documented, and incorporated into the Joint Parks and Recreation Master Plan. This plan will help to determine goals and strategies to improve your park and open spaces system.

Please take the time to carefully read each question and answer it to the best of your ability. The questionnaire should take about 15 minute to complete.

This survey is being managed by Cassi Meitl of Spalding DeDecker (cmeitl@sda-eng.com). If you have other questions or concerns, please contact Tony Lipinski at the Recreation Authority of Roseville and Eastpointe (alipinski@rare-mi.org or 586-445-5480).

To whom it may concern,

My name is Antoinette Martinez, and each year I do a fundraiser for a nonprofit called Kids On the Go! This year I would love to have it April 13 at the Roseville Rec Center.

Kids On the Go is a non-profit that provides free therapy for kids with special needs. They're great because it's not just for kids with Autism but for kids with all different abilities.

The fundraiser will be a 1-hour long Turn Up Dance Fitness event, with added raffles, including 50/50 and baskets donated from local businesses. Participants will sign a waiver to ensure all liabilities are accounted for. This fundraiser will also help bring in new members to the rec center, who may want to use the facilities in the future.

I hope to be able to use your facility

Thank you in advance and please message or call me with any questions you may have regarding this request.

Eastpointe, Roseville to revamp parks master plan

Cities will seek resident input throughout 2024

PUBLISHED: March 10, 2024 at 8:02 a.m. | UPDATED: March 10, 2024 at 8:03 a.m.

For the next seven weeks, residents of Eastpointe and Roseville will have an opportunity to share ideas for park improvements.

The Recreation Authority of Roseville and Eastpointe and the cities of Eastpointe and Roseville are preparing to revise their parks and recreation master plans and are seeking input from residents regarding park improvements and amenities.

Through April 28, there will be map posters of city parks displayed at the RARE Center, Eastpointe City Hall and Roseville City Hall. Residents can write on the posters and highlight existing amenities they enjoy in each individual park as well as make suggestions for improvements.

“It is really important that we have updated Parks and Recreation master plans so that we can apply for state and federal grants,” said RARE Executive Director Tony Lipinski.

Parks and Recreation Master Plans are updated every five years and submitted to the Michigan Department of Natural Resources. The new plan must be submitted by Feb. 1, 2025.

“We really rely on grant funding for many park improvements,” said Eastpointe Economic Development Director Ian McCain. “We are hoping to get a lot of input from residents and anyone who uses our parks,”

McCain said beginning June 1 there will be an online survey that can be accessed through a QR code as well as public hearings where residents can share their thoughts on parks. The plan is to utilize multiple methods to gather information and construct a parks and recreation master plan that addresses the needs of park patrons.

“The most popular requests are pools, splash pads, and walking paths,” said Lipinski. “There are also requests for upgraded play structures.”

Special needs playscapes and park equipment is a popular request and something McCain hopes to be able to add to more parks.

“In general, a lot of residents are asking for existing infrastructure to be upgraded,” said McCain. “One of the projects we would like to initiate is connecting the parks with walking paths or way finding signs.”

McCain said connecting the parks in such a way would encourage people to explore different city parks and increase awareness of existing park amenities.

“A lot of people don’t know that we have a disc golf course at Spindler Park,” McCain said.

Lipinski said he knows parks are extremely important to residents and encourages everyone to come and look at the park posters and give input.

“The input we get over this year will help guide our future decisions,” said Lipinski.

Eastpointe, Roseville resident input sought for Joint Parks and Recreation Master Plan

EASTPOINTE/ROSEVILLE — Officials are in the process of updating the Recreation Authority of Roseville and Eastpointe's Joint Parks and Recreation Master Plan.

The joint plan helps upgrade the cities' parks, recreation amenities, programs and services. Officials from both cities are seeking input from the residents on the five-year master plan. RARE currently has a master plan on file from 2020.

"This is just updating it," RARE Executive Director Tony Lipinski said.

Lipinski is working with officials from Roseville and Eastpointe on the project, and community input is an important part of the process. The feedback is used to help guide decisions and to better understand residents' needs and desires. From there, city employees apply to the state for various grants to fund the updates.

To help with the process, city officials have displayed large maps of the cities' parks and asked residents to write what they like about that particular park, what they don't like, and what they would like to see in the future.

The maps are up in the lobbies of the RARE building, located at 18185 Sycamore St. in Roseville; Roseville City Hall, located at 29777 Gratiot Ave.; and Eastpointe City Hall, located at 23200 Gratiot Ave.

Residents are encouraged to write down their ideas in the spaces provided. The completion of the plan will allow both cities and RARE to remain eligible for state and federal agency grant funding. The maps will remain up until April 28.

Recreation Authority of Roseville and Eastpointe Executive Director Tony Lipinski encourages residents to stop by the RARE building or the lobbies of the Eastpointe and Roseville city halls to offer their suggestions for the cities' five-year Joint Parks and Recreation Master Plan. Maps of the parks and spaces to write suggestions are posted in all three locations.

In January, officials from both cities met to begin discussion on the five-year joint master plan. At that time, the consulting firm Spalding DeDecker — based in Detroit — was contracted to provide professional planning services for the five-year joint recreation master plan.

“We responded to the Request for Proposals released in December 2023, excited to work with the administration, staff, and citizens of RARE, Eastpointe, and Roseville to create a long-term and sustainable vision for their parks,” Spalding DeDecker Planning Manager Cassi Meitl said via email. “We are urban, community, and recreation planners, landscape architects, and civil engineers passionate about helping communities succeed.”

Once all the feedback from residents is collected, Spalding DeDecker will combine and summarize the input, and then the firm will review the suggestions with RARE, Eastpointe and Roseville representatives.

“We might use the ideas as a basis for public input sessions held later this year and they will be considered as each organization develops goals, objectives, and the action plan for the next five years and beyond,” Meitl said. “The suggestions will also be included in the report as part of the community input summary.”

There are eight parks in Eastpointe: Spindler, Kennedy, Goetz, Shamrock, Roxana, Fairlane, Rein and Memorial; and eight in Roseville: Huron, Veterans Memorial, Dooley, Rotary, Macomb Gardens, Packard, Kiwanis and Lions.

A handful of residents have already made several recommendations. Splash pads, walking paths and pools seem to be the most popular suggestions thus far. Other requests include restrooms, additional parking spots, pickleball courts, new playground equipment, basketball courts and new pavilions.

At Kennedy Park, for instance, someone recommended that the hockey rink be removed. Another resident would like to see the preschool program return to Spindler Park.

Public hearings on the master plan will be held at RARE board meetings and city council meetings later in the year. Notices will be posted for these public hearings. Residents should also look for notifications about a public opinion survey, accessible via QR code, in June, July and August.

“Once the plan is done and submitted to the state, then we’re eligible to apply for grants,” Lipinski said. “We’re hopeful (to receive grants), and that’s why we have to prioritize the projects.”

RARE does not maintain the parks in either city, so each city will have to apply for its own grants. To be eligible for various state grants, a community must either have an approved five-year plan on file with the Michigan Department of Natural Resources in the MiGrants online system by Feb. 1 of the year it intends to apply, or submit a capital improvement plan with its application.

Grant to make a splash at city park

Eastpointe received a $1.5 million grant to help build a water feature at Kennedy Park. SUSAN SMILEY — THE MACOMB DAILY

Eastpointe residents and park patrons can look forward to a little more fun in the sun after the city received a $1.5 million Community Center Grant from the Michigan Department of Labor and Economic Opportunity.

Eastpointe plans to use the funding to create a splash pad at Kennedy Park. The new water feature will be added near the area where the city pool was formerly located, according to city Economic Development Director Ian McCain.

“We will have a new outdoor aquatic asset, which is something we have not had since 2012 when the pool was removed from the northern end of Kennedy Park,” said McCain. “We are in the initial phases of design and the project must be completed by October 2026.”

Eastpointe requested $2.4 million for the project on the grant application and received $1.5 million, but McCain said that will still allow the city to create a solid aquatic feature that will fill a need for park enthusiasts.

Roseville is also in the process of adding a water asset and McCain said the cities are coordinating with the goal of putting different features at each location.

“It will be nice for people to have two options,” said McCain. “This will be really, really cool for both of the communities.

“It is a very solid and exciting project.”

Roseville and Eastpointe have a combined recreation department through the Recreational Authority of Roseville and Eastpointe (RARE). Eastpointe had previously applied for a Spark Grant through the Department of Natural Resources for a similar project at Kennedy Park but did not receive it.

McCain said additional improvements are planned for Kennedy Park including a walking path with fitness stations and an additional pavilion.

RARE and the cities of Eastpointe and Roseville are currently seeking input from residents regarding their parks and recreation master plans and invite residents to share ideas for new park amenities by visiting the RARE building, Eastpointe or Roseville city hall and writing suggestions on the park maps posted at each location.
