OLD BUSINESS

Arin stated she has gotten the new City Art Gallery hung; she still has to place name cards showcasing the artist. She stated there was discussion that if after the art was hung if members felt more pieces should be added we could go deeper into the scored pieces to add more. She asked that members email her with their input.

The vinyl mural that was placed on West Marine has taken a beating from the wind from the waterfront and the texture of the building has not allowed it to adhere sufficiently. Arin has decided to move it at no charge to a new site and it will be placed at a new site in the spring.
